

LMES Preschool November News!

October has come and gone and we are moving into November. I can't believe how fast these months are flying by!

October was filled with fun and excitement as we finished our color theme with color mixing to create more colors and also created shape collages too. We looked around our room and found various shapes everywhere from the ceiling to the floor, and on the walls. We created some spooky art to decorate the classroom and learned some fun Halloween songs too. We pretended to be wobbly skeletons, chanted "5 Little Pumpkins" and made "witches brew" during our meeting time. We also created skeletons and practiced tracing and cutting our own pumpkins. The kids created their pumpkins from start to finish with very little help from adults. (They are hanging by the smartboard)

November will be fun filled too! We will begin November talking about fall and creating some fall colored art. After decorating our class with fall colors, we will move on to family and Thanksgiving! (If anyone has pumpkins or gourds left from Halloween that they have not carved, we will gladly take them for fun science stuff!) We will have a science assembly on November 1st that begins at 9am. Please drop off at the class between 8:50-8:55 so the children can put their things away, and we can walk up to the cafeteria.

*Thinking about the holidays coming up...Do you celebrate Hanukkah? Christmas? Have a special tradition or a special treat from another country that you would love to come share with the class? Please let us know!
